SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, SAN MATEO COUNTY, CAL., FRIDAY, JANUARY 9, 1920.

NO. 2

DEVELOPMENT OF MINE TO BEGIN

T. V. BARTON AND L. E. AUBURY
SECURE FIVE YEARS' LEASE
AND WORK OF SINKING SHAFT WILL START SOON.

By a deal consummated Thursday afternoon at a meeting of the directors of the South San Francisco Land and Improvement Company, T. V. Barton, well-known local mining expert, and Louis E. Aubury of Burlingame, former state mineralogist, have leased the ground upon which the lead and silver ore was recently discovered on the hill near the high school. The lease is for five years and its securing by Barton and Aubury means that development work on the prospect will begin as soon as materials can be placed on the ground and the necessary labor secured.

T. V. Barton is the man who discovered the outcropping of ore recently. Mr. Aubury is an expert in all matters dealing with ores and minerals, and the enthusiasm with which these two men have taken hold of the developing of the prospect here promises well for the conducting of the work. Both are emphatic in declaring the surface showing of ore excellent. If the ore develops in paying quantities lower down, as both men are sure it will, it means that South San Francisco will have a rich mine of galena or lead-silver ore in its back yard.

Mr. Barton stated this morning that a company of local capitalists will be formed immediately. Already several such men have signified their confidence in the enterprise and willingness to back it, and prospects are excellent for the mine's immediate development. Mr. Barton stated the first work to be done would be the sinking of a shaft to a depth of probably one hundred feet to test the depth of the vein, with several side drifts measuring its volume.

The consideration covering the lease is not made public, but it is understood that the prospect mine will be developed on a percentage of the ore shipped.

UNKNOWN MAN IS KILLED AT MILLBRAE

In spite of the efforts of Deputy Coroner Lasswell of Daly City to locate relatives or friends of the man killed at Millbrae Tuesday by the auto of Louis Orlando of 40 McAvoy street, San Jose, the body is still at the Lasswell undertaking parlors unidentified. Since Tuesday many people have inspected the body with the thought of finding a lost friend or relative, but so far nobody has recognized the man.

The dead man is about 55 years of age and well dressed. He was about 5 feet 10 inches in height and wore a gray suit. In his pockets were a card with the name "J. Mitchell, San Francisco," several cans of snuff and a wallet containing between $40 and $50 and several tintype pictures.

Orlando said the man appeared to be deaf, as he paid no attention to the tooting of the horn.

Orlando was arrested by Traffic Officer Leland Bond and taken to Redwood City by Constable S. A. Landini. The officers charged the autoist with manslaughter, although the evidence indicated that he had done everything possible to avoid the accident.

Y. M. C. A. GIRLS WHO ARE GOING TO POLAND

These young women, five native Americans and five born in Poland, are soon to leave New York for Poland to do Y. M. C. A. work in the new station. The American girls are all of Polish blood. Misses Anderson and Woodsmall, on the right, will accompany the party to Paris.

CENSUS TAKING NOW GOING ON

All Urged to Help the Enumerators
Get a Full, Complete Census of South San Francisco.

The taking of the census is now in full swing in South San Francisco, Mrs. Di Vita having charge of the work in district No. 2, while George Roll is handling it in districts 1 and 3. Both report satisfactory results as a whole, but that much valuable time is lost in questioning some persons who, through suspicion of the enumerator or ignorance of matters that the necessary questions bear upon, compel the official to call a second time to finish getting information.

All should understand that the truthful answering of the census questions is compulsory and refusal to so answer is punishable by severe penalties. It should be understood, too, that the sole object of the census is to enable the federal government to know how many persons are living in the United States and to gather statistics on living conditions, agriculture, manufacturing, etc.

It will be a great help to the enumerators and also a public service to the end that this city shall get a full and correct census if all the women of the town, who are the ones most likely to be interviewed by the census officials, inform themselves ahead on matters the questions will cover. Some of the most important are the ages of both parents in the family and of all children. The places of birth, the nationality, the year of immigration, and the year of naturalization will also be asked, as well as the place of birth of the father and mother of both parents. The occupation of the head of the family will also be asked and whether you own your home or not, also whether it is mortgaged.

It is expected to take a couple of weeks to finish the work in South San Francisco.

YOU MUST REGISTER IF YOU WISH TO VOTE

Do you wish to express your preference for President of the United States this year as every good American should? Then don't forget to register. Registration and transfer for the presidential primary election held May 4th close April 3d; registration and transfer for the August primary election to be held August 31st close July 31st; registration and transfer for the general election to be held November 2d close October 2.

ANTI-PICKETING ORDINANCE FILED

PROPOSED MEASURE FAILS OF PASSAGE BY CITY TRUSTEES; BOARD HEARS REPORTS FOR MONTH AND APPROVES BILLS.

No argument developed Monday night at the meeting of the city trustees on the much-discussed proposed anti-picketing ordinance, and the instrument was ordered filed by the unanimous vote of the board. A communication from the Manufacturers' Association, the sponsor of the ordinance, asking its consideration be laid over for two weeks, was received, but as no reason was advanced for the request, the vote filing the document was taken.

A request was received from Howard, Blanchard & Crocker for the payment of the last 25 per cent of the money due them for the grading and paving of Walnut avenue, the sum being given by Engineer Geo. Kneese as $5523.30. The board voted to make the payment on condition that certain repairs to a curb damaged in the course of the paving be made.

An application for a pool hall license for the Baden Hotel was received from Antonio Cabeza. As Cabeza was unknown to the board, his application was laid over till next meeting night with the request that he appear before the board personally.

The offer of County Supervisor Thomas Hickey to have the county equipment roll crushed rock into the shoulder at the turn of the highway just north of the business district of South San Francisco on San Bruno road, on condition that the city furnish the rock, was accepted. This matter had been referred to the street committee at a previous meeting.

Much of the meeting was taken up with the reading and approving of bills against the city and the hearing of monthly reports of city officials. Fire Chief Truax reported but one fire during the month of December, that in which the garage of W. R. Lane at 548 Baden avenue was burned with a loss of $200. City Recorder J. J. Dowd reported $4 collected as filing fees in two civil actions during December. City Treasurer Kauffmann reported $31,412.97 on deposit in the Bank of South San Francisco. City Clerk W. J. Smith reported expendi-

WOMAN'S CLUB HAS INTERESTING PROGRAM

Musical and Literary Numbers Are Features of First Meeting of the New Year.

The South San Francisco Woman's Club held its first meeting of the new year at Fraternal Hall Thursday afternoon. A most enjoyable program, arranged by Mrs. E. C. Peck, was the feature of the afternoon. About fifty club members and guests were present.

Mrs. James Hazlett, elocutionist, of San Francisco gave several readings. These included a selection from Paul Lawrence Dunbar and an ode by Henry Van Dyke. Mrs. Hazlett displayed a versatility and skill that made her readings intensely interesting.

Mrs. Frederick Crowe, pianist, also of San Francisco, gave several numbers during the afternoon. Perhaps the most pleasing were interpretations of Indian music, especially that of the "Chant of the Peon Game." This part of her recital was unique and showed a comprehensive study of American folk lore and native Indian music.

The next meeting will be the first Thursday in February. The program committee has planned a card party for the club members and their friends.

GOING TO HONOLULU ON PLEASURE TRIP

Mrs. W. J. Martin is planning a pleasure trip to Honolulu, accompanying her friend, Mrs. William Jordon, of Omaha, Neb., who is now at the Martin home. The two will leave San Francisco on the steamer Sachem, January 24th, and expect to make the return trip early in April.

Y. M. C. A. TO GIVE ENTERTAINMENT THURSDAY

Another of the popular Y. M. C. A. entertainments will be given at the "Y" hall next Thursday. A program of about six numbers will be put on by Miss Mae O'Keefe's school of elocution, and should prove one of the most interesting entertainments the local "Y" has yet given.

tutes for the month amounting to $2337.16. The clerk's receipts for December were as follows: City taxes, $553.60; from the recorder's court, $50; for vehicle licenses, $3; for tax redemptions, $59.53; interest on deposits, $55.18; total, $721.31.

AVIATION FIELD ASSURED FOR SO. S. F.

FRIESLEY AIRCRAFT CORP. BUYS
LOCAL SITE FOR AVIATION FIELD; MAY BE TERMINAL FOR SAN FRANCISCO AERO MAIL.

An interesting development of the last few days and one that assures a new industry for South San Francisco is the purchase here by the Friesley Aircraft Corporation of a 101-acre tract as the site for an aviation field. The purchase of the land was made by the aircraft company Monday, and officials of the company have announced that within the very near future work will start on the construction of hangars and repair shops for the carrying on of their work here on an extensive scale. The site purchased by the Friesley Corporation is in the level land just south of the business district of this city and adjacent to both the state highway and San Bruno road.

At present the Friesley Corporation is operating two aircraft at Montgomery Field. These two ships will be brought to the South San Francisco field and two more of a new and distinct type larger than any now being used in this region will be added to the corporation's equipment. The company will engage in commercial flying on much the same order as that now being done at the Redwood City and other fields. It is believed that later the western terminal for San Francisco aero mail will be located at the local field.

This marks the establishment of the first commercial flying field in the vicinity of San Francisco. Aviation experts from Mather and other fields have looked the local ground over at different times and have declared it ideal for flying, especially as the prevailing westerly breeze admits of a quick rise and an easy descent.

Pilots Jack Sharpnack and Roy de Arce, both experienced aviators, will be in charge at the local field.

BELIEVES DISTRICT HAS 5200 PERSONS

Some interesting figures regarding the number of minor children in this school district and the number of families living here were developed by the recent registration of minors.

The returns show 1495 minor children in the district. Of these, 709 are girls and 786 boys. Of the children registered, 805 are attending school, 93 are working, 569 are under 6 years of age, and 28 are listed as "other minors," that is, above 6 years of age but not attending school or working. The number of families enrolled is 938.

With these figures as a basis, L. E. Adams, district superintendent of schools, has declared his belief that the census now being taken will show this school district to have a population of approximately 5200 persons.

COLMA BOY IS MISSING.

City Clerk W. J. Smith received a telephone call from Constable Landini at Colma Wednesday reporting the disappearance of a 14-year-old boy of that place. The lad's name is Albert Alcardi, and his parents had heard a rumor that he had been seen working in South San Francisco. Officers here are on the lookout for the lad.

SERMONETTE FOR TODAY

A YEAR OF WHAT?

Another year is before us, with all of its possibilities for good or ill, for success or failure.

As we cross the border of 1920 how many of us are giving even a passing thought to the character of the course we are to pursue in the next twelve months?

The commander who goes into battle in pursuance of a definite plan of action has every opportunity for success, but he who plunges in at random courts disaster and defeat.

It is so in every sphere of life.

If we would enrich the world by our individual presence we must have a definite plan in view, and that plan must be adhered to in the face of all obstacles.

Accumulation of wealth is not the noblest aim in life. With prosperity we must have honor and integrity, peace and contentment, or the gold we amass becomes but dross which drags us down to the mire of degradation.

Honor and integrity go hand in hand, and peace and contentment are their twin children.

All are within the reach of every man and every woman who has the moral courage to begin the new year with a determination to do that which is right and just, regardless of what friend or foe may think or say.

It is easier to do right than to do wrong. In the one our conscience is clear and is a potent aid to us in the pursuance of an object. In the other we labor constantly in the shadow of fear, suspicious of mankind, and with a mind warped and distorted by the dread of exposure.

For each of us it will be a year replete with something—but what will that something be?

BAKERY CHANGES HANDS.

The South City Bakery has been sold by C. Agresti to B. Damele and V. Boido. The two new proprietors have also purchased the Galli bakery here and in San Bruno and expect to engage in the baking business on an extensive scale. Mr. Agresti will engage in farming on a place which he owns near Coma.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT APPORTIONS SCHOOL FUNDS

County Superintendent of Schools Roy W. Cloud has made the first apportionment of county funds to the various school districts of San Mateo county. The amounts apportioned to the larger towns of the county are as follows:

Burlingame—Library, $270; kindergarten, $362.39; special, $12,683.57 and $3805.07; county, $9639.

Redwood City—Library, $315; kindergarten, $1769.92; special, $6637.18; county, $10,881.

San Mateo—Library, $465; kindergarten, $2155.25; special, $892.92; county, $17,248.50.

South San Francisco—Library, $285; kindergarten, $1061.01; special, $5128.17; county, $10,264.50.

San Bruno Park—Library, $135; kindergarten, $772.74; special, $2107.46; county, $5449.50.

MOOSE TO HOLD CARNIVAL DEPICTING DAYS OF '49

"The days of old, the days of gold, the days of '49." The Loyal Order of Moose, South City Lodge, No. 832, announces that February 14, 1920, it is going to stage a celebration to be known as "Coyote Gulch '49ers' Dance and Frontier Day."

The year of 1919 has been a most successful one for the order. The total membership of the country has reached close to the three-quarter million mark, while the local lodge is nearing 500.

Among the Moose is peace and harmony. The treasury is in good condition and everything points to a prosperous year ahead. The lodge has cared for the sick and needy, has brought comfort to the bereaved and joy to the hearts of the little ones. Members of the order have met in good fellowship, have had smokers and banquets among themselves, but now they feel that all should be allowed to have a treat. They feel it their duty to permit others to share in their good times, so have arranged something new in the way of a celebration.

In planning this celebration the committee made sure to have its scope broad enough to entertain everybody. No matter what your temperament may be, there will be some feature to interest you.

The carnival will deal with those early history-making days in California when our sturdy forefathers gathered from all climes in quest of gold. They were rough-and-ready men and women, whose garb was picturesque and whose accommodations were quaint and crude. No effort or expense will be spared to give an accurate reproduction of those days. Eminent specialists on the different features have been engaged to that end. Nothing that labor or money can produce has been omitted. It will not overtax your imaginative powers to bring those early days back into reality. You will be able to live among our forefathers for an evening, to do as they did, to breathe the same atmosphere that surrounded the '49ers when they gathered for a night of revelry.

Each week more details will be given in these columns in order that the public may become acquainted with the treat in store for it.—Adv.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WILL HOLD IMPORTANT MEETING

The Chamber of Commerce will hold an important meeting next Tuesday evening at the city hall. As business of more than ordinary moment is to be considered, it is hoped that there will be a large gathering of the members. Among other matters that will be considered at this meeting will be the curfew law for South San Francisco and the election of officers for the year.

90,000 ENUMERATORS AT WORK ON BIG CENSUS

The taking of "the greatest census the world has ever seen," was started this week when 90,000 workers began the task of enumerating the population, as well as the natural and industrial resources of the United States.

Sam Rogers, director of the census, who gave the word to start work on January 2d, expects to be able to make his first estimate two weeks later.

Though no official prediction as to how many people are living in the United States is forthcoming, it was learned that the census bureau expects the final count will show between 100 and 105 millions.

Work of directing the census is divided up into 379 regions, with a supervisor in charge of each region. The districts are split up in conformity to congressional districts, though in several instances, especially where there is a thick population in a small area, two or three congressional districts are combined under the direction of one supervisor.

Cost of taking the census, Rogers said, will be approximately $22,000,000. The census will include Hawaii, Porto Rico, the District of Columbia, Alaska, Guam, Samoa and the Panama Canal Zone.

"The census will cover statistics on population, agriculture, manufactures, forestry and forest products, and mines and quarries," he continued.

According to the last census of 1910, there were 91,972,266 inhabitants of the United States, exclusive of Alaska and insular possessions. This has been increased by at least 10,000,000, according to an estimate made by the

FIGHT FOR HUNTER'S POINT IS GIVEN NEW IMPETUS

Maps and data showing the possible expansion of Hunter's Point as a naval base site have been sent to Congressman John I. Nolan by the city engineer of San Francisco. Congressman Nolan is continuing the fight at Washington in favor of Hunter's Point as a naval base, although the Navy Department has indicated it is inclined toward the Alameda site.

As an additional inducement the supervisors and the harbor commission offer to close the tidal canal south of Hunter's Point should the Navy Department desire more area for future extensions. There are seventy-eight acres in the closed basin, 563 acres south of it to the county line and 1280 acres in San Mateo county, a total of 2595 acres available for a naval base.

Those closely in touch with the situation in South San Francisco are very hopeful that Hunter's Point will yet be the site chosen.

An airplane doesn't go up on account of the weather. Winter rent does.

..... census bureau when it recently made an investigation of the country's manpower. The result caused the bureau to estimate the country's population of more than 100,000,000.

Other work of the enumerators will include a census on how many farms there are in the United States, their value of manufactured and mineral products. The 1910 census placed the value of farms, manufactured and mineral products at more than $60,000,000,000.

The Successful Farmer Raises Bigger Crops

and cuts down costs by investment in labor-saving machinery.

Good prices for the farmers' crops encourage new investment, more production and greater prosperity.

But the success of agriculture depends on the growth of railroads—the modern beasts of burden that haul the crops to the world's markets.

The railroads—like the farms—increase their output and cut down unit costs by the constant investment of new capital.

With fair prices for the work they do, the railroads are able to attract new capital for expanding their facilities.

Rates high enough to yield a fair return will insure railroad growth, and prevent costly traffic congestion, which invariably results in poorer service at higher cost.

National wealth can increase only as our railroads grow.

Poor railroad service is dear at any price. No growing country can long pay the price of inadequate transportation facilities.

Electric Cleaners Safeguard Health

Carpets, rugs and draperies are germ catchers and carriers. There is only one effective means of eliminating them. Beating and sweeping merely stirs up dirt, to let it settle again.

THE ELECTRIC VACUUM CLEANER cleans. It digs down deep into the texture of the carpet, and pulls off and collects all the germ laden dirt, so it can be carried out of the house.

There is no back-breaking labor. You merely turn the electric switch and run your sweeper. In little or no time the sweeping and dusting part of the housecleaning job is simply, easily accomplished.

The cost of current is a mere trifle—the amount that one Mazda Lamp would use in the same amount of time. Ask your contractor-dealer for a demonstration and explanation of his term payment plan.

YEARS MERELY LIFE'S CHAPTERS

Offer Opportunity for Each of Us to Write Therein a Record Better Than the Preceding.

THE coming year lies spread like the white plain that sweeps from the roadside to the distant forest where the gray squirrels are making tracks in the light snow. On this white sheet a little record may be written; not a full life story, but merely a brief chapter or two, like the chapters of squirrel life that may be read by one who to-day ventures into the white forest.

It is a great mystery that lies ahead, a treasure house of endless possibilities. The span of a man's life is short; shorter in absolute measurement than the span of a year. For each year, when October fades into November, has wrought completeness. No human life can bring completeness. It cannot bring completeness of knowledge or completeness of happiness or completeness of good works. The best man can do, in his poor, limited way, is to glean as much wisdom and win as much happiness and do as much good as the number of his days permits. When the human October fades it may thus be rich and peaceful and without the scars of stormy days or the blight of wasted days and without undue regret that what should have been seen and known and done has not been seen and known and done.

A YEAR'S completeness is but a twelvemonth. Our human incompleteness covers many twelvemonths. How fortunate that each dawning year means a new opportunity to live and learn. Again and again we may take up the thread and advance toward the goal of apprehension. We may study God's works and year by year come nearer to an appreciation of them. We can never fully appreciate them, for our minds are finite, and they are infinite. But each succeeding year is a new opportunity. It offers the perfection of completeness, and by even a partial comprehension of its fullness we may move toward fulfillment of the measure of our lives.

"I am not afraid," said Thoreau, "that I shall exaggerate the value and significance of life, but that I shall not be up to the occasion which it is. I shall be sorry to remember that I was there, but noticed nothing remarkable—not so much as a prince in disguise; lived in the golden age a hired man; visited Olympus even, and fell asleep after dinner, and did not hear the conversation of the gods."

ONE who loves only artificiality, who does not note the excellence of the world he has been set to rule, proves himself unworthy of his heritage, and is punished by bitter unrest. His life lacks the boon of contentment which includes all boons. There are, of course, the few whose mental scope is too narrow for self-measurement. They do not even know that they are discontented and may enjoy life as the ox enjoys life. They are fortunate. The unfortunate man is the one who has, even dimly, an understanding that the world is good and beautiful and that he is failing to reap the richness that is rightly his.

The coming year is indeed a great mystery, full of possibilities. Whoever has not watched and studied the passing years may begin today; it is never too late. Whoever has long watched and loved the years will know that to his knowledge, however ripe, much will be added. He will advance a step nearer to the goal of contentment, and in so advancing will increase his human usefulness, his helpfulness.

WHY I AM A SCOUT

By Albert S. Beltrami.

I am a Scout because I believe in the training one receives through being a member of the Boy Scouts of America.

The Scout oath:

"On my honor I will do my best, to do my duty to God and my country and to obey the Scout law; to help other people at all times; to keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight," which I promised on becoming a member of the Scout organization, I might never have heard of or tried to carry out had I not joined the Scouts. It is an oath which any one should be proud to take.

A Scout is kind, courteous, loyal, friendly, cheerful, thrifty, brave, obedient, helpful, reverent, clean, and trustworthy.

A Scout must be prepared at any time to save life, help injured persons or share the home duties. He must do at least one good turn each day.

Scout training brings one closer to nature. It develops the body and mind and prepares us for better citizenship.

President Wilson, the president of the United States, is also president of the Boy Scouts of America.

Boy Scout training fits one for a business career or any other career. Supposing a former Scout is sent

THANKS ENTERPRISE.

Editor Enterprise—Dear Sir: The recent sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals conducted by the California Tuberculosis Association and its local committees throughout California has been a successful one, and we have funds enough on hand from the proceeds of the sale to carry us on for another year. Very much of the credit for the success of the sale this year must be given to the editors of the California newspapers, who so generously allowed us space in their papers during the sale. I need not mention that, aside from the financial return, that the educational work done at this time is of far greater importance, and because of the tremendous part taken by the California newspapers in helping us with the campaign, I take this opportunity to thank you for your interest and co-operation.

Very truly yours,

HOW SOME FORTUNES ARE MADE.

The dispatches the latter part of December carried a story of the selling in Shreveport, La., of two building lots for $90,000 that were purchased a few years ago by a working woman for $300 each. This woman, a dress-maker, had saved that $600 and bought the two lots as an investment. She kept them for a number of years and finally sold them three years ago for $50,000, a very comfortable profit on her investment of $600! In December they were sold again for $90,000.

Such stories are often heard in cities of rapid growth. The person who puts his or her savings into carefully selected realty cannot go far wrong in any city around San Francisco bay. This district within the next few years will probably see the most rapid and substantial growth of its existence. South San Francisco, an industrial city with a great future before it, offers opportunities for investment equal to any city in the bay region.

BOOST YOUR TOWN.

An ideal citizen is one who sees something good in his town and spreads the good news abroad that others may benefit therefrom. Of course, there are other sidelights to the ideal citizen, but the quality of loyalty is one which produces tangible results.

There are three distinct attitudes which a person may assume toward the community which houses and feeds him—to boost, to remain quiescent, or to knock. The booster pushes his town along, the quiescent citizen lulls it to sleep, and the knocker helps to put it out of business.

Which are you?

Perhaps you have never given it a thought. You may not realize yourself which you are—but your neighbors all know. They have you accurately catalogued according to your deserts.

If you are a booster, they admire you; if you are quiescent, they wonder when you will emerge from your slumber; and if you are a knocker, they yearn for the day when you will fold up your tent and silently fade away.

Boost the home town, and its citizens will boost you. Knock it, and you knock yourself infinitely more.

ANOTHER FAMILY JAR.

All the world knows that General Pershing and General Wood have about as much love for each other as an alley cat for a bull pup. And yet each, it seems, would not be averse to becoming president of the United States and commander-in-chief of the other.

When Wood and Pershing meet they bow elaborately and palaver politely and then duck their separate ways as quickly as possible. Each has his friends and admirers, but to the public in general it is somewhat amusing.

But family jars, you know, are always the source of much amusement—to all except the family.

Our great and distinguished generals, finding no other fields to conquer, will now proceed to devour each other.

THE TRIAL OF THE KAISER.

Periodically some story is sprung to the effect that the Kaiser is to be tried, or that he is not to face his accusers, or that Holland will not surrender him to the allies.

Then the story goes out that the ex-war lord will not submit to the indignity of a trial, and recently we were regaled with gossip to the effect that the imperial has-been is engaged in preparing his defense.

In reality, the old man is becoming about as big a nuisance to the reading public as the peace treaty and the league of nations.

COMMUNITY SPIRIT.

It requires many people to make up a community, and in that community are many shades of religious and material beliefs. It stands to reason that there is and always will be much variance of opinion.

Never are two people found whose views are identical on every subject, nor even on any subject. Somewhere the dividing line is found, and there the community trouble begins.

Each of us is prone to think himself right and all others wrong. It is human nature and will always be so.

But there is a common ground upon which all may meet, a forum from which the community spirit may be developed to the highest degree. That is the arena of free speech and public discussion of community affairs through the columns of the local paper.

Where many are gathered together and each gives his views as he sees them, the majority is reasonably sure to arrive at a proper conclusion on any subject concerning our local welfare.

Such a course might be employed to good advantage in this community.

The craniums of our local people are filled with excellent ideas for our collective advancement. All that is required is an opportunity for them to be heard.

Shall we supply the opportunity? The Enterprise will print your ideas on matters of community interest.

Be careful how you blow off with new year resolutions. Like prices, they are subject to change without notice.

We all admire the fellow who has the courage of his convictions, provided those convictions coincide with our own views.

If all of the booze in the country could be frozen into blocks—well, you know, there is no law against selling ice.

BLASTING BEING DONE ON SWIFT AVENUE WORK

A number of distant explosions in the last few days have caused considerable speculation in this city as to their origin. The fact of the matter is, they were blasts set off by Ralsch Improvement Company workmen who are taking away the point of the hill that juts down into Swift avenue just beyond the Western Meat packing plant. The hill is being dug away with a steam shovel as the blasts loosen the soil and hard clay. This work is part of the contract calling for the grading and paving of Swift avenue.

THAT EXPLOSION YOU HEARD.

The explosion that startled the town this morning about 8:30 occurred at the steel works and was caused by a quantity of red-hot cinders being dumped into water. The noise was loud, the jar considerable, but nobody was hurt.

PRACTICAL RECIPES

Under this heading The Enterprise will publish, from week to week, a series of excellent recipes written especially for this paper by a woman who has had a university training in domestic science and a wide experience in cooking in her own home. Every recipe has been thoroughly tested and will be found economical and palatable.

How much time and thought do you put on your children's lunch basket?

"Children have such appetites that they will eat anything," is a remark often heard. They may have good appetites now, but if school children are allowed to eat the wrong things, the time may come when they can't eat the right things.

Growing children have certain special needs in the way of food. Like grown people, they must be supplied with that which is necessary for health and strength, but, unlike them, they should be given also that which is necessary for development.

Even one hot dish obtainable at school at noon makes the lunch more appetizing, and many schools are now providing it. When a child must carry lunch and can not obtain at school a hot dish, the task of filling the box or basket demands great care to make sure that it is appetizing, nourishing, and sustaining.

One of the best investments to make for a child who carries his lunch to a school that does not serve a hot lunch is a bottle which will keep liquids hot or cold for some time. Cocoa, or soup piping hot on a cold day, will make a feast out of an otherwise uninteresting lunch.

Five Groups of Food Needed

In general, the school lunch, like the child's diet as a whole, should contain representatives of the five food groups. In it should be found foods rich in protein, such as milk, cheese, meats, fish, dried beans, peas, peanuts, and other nuts; cereal or starchy foods, such as bread, cereal mushes, rice and tapioca; fatty foods, such as butter, cream, salad oils and bacon; vegetables and fruits, but such as cereals and dried beans are not put under this classification; simple sweets, including cakes and cookies that contain little fat; cane sugar, plain candies, maple sugar, sweet chocolate, jellies, preserved fruit, jams, marmalades, honey, molasses, syrups and dried figs, dates and other dried fruits.

Some Suggested Basket Lunches

Here are some recommended combinations:

Sandwiches with sliced, tender meat for filling; baked apple, cookies, or a few lumps of sugar.

Slices of meat loaf or bean loaf; bread and butter sandwiches; stewed fruit; small frosted cake.

Crisp rolls, hollowed out and filled with chopped meat or fish, moistened and seasoned, or mixed with salad dressing; orange, apple, a mixture of sliced fruits, or berries; cake.

Lettuce or celery sandwiches; cup custard; jelly sandwiches.

Cottage cheese and chopped green-pepper sandwiches, or a pot of cream cheese with bread and butter sandwiches; peanut butter; fruit; cake.

Hard-boiled eggs; crisp baking-powder biscuits; celery or radishes; brown sugar or maple sugar sandwiches.

Bottle of milk; thin cornbread and butter; dates; apple.

Raisin or nut bread with butter; cheese; orange; maple sugar.

Baked bean and lettuce sandwiches; apple sauce; sweet chocolate.

Nearly every one knows the necessity of dainty wrapping and packing if an appetizing lunch is to be the result. A container that can be scalded, plenty of paraffin paper, a jelly cup with a cover, and bottles with screw tops all assist in the making of a dainty lunch.

[The writer of these recipes will be glad to answer in this department questions with reference to cooking or dietetics. Address your inquiries to Cooking Editor, The Enterprise.]

Poet D'Annunzio would make a great hit as a leader in some of these ragtime revolutions they have down in Central America.

Novelties in Hosiery

Probably Santa Claus' pack contained a greater number of pairs of silk hose this year than ever, and fewer cotton and woolen pairs. But the shopper who went forth cheerfully to buy the usual number of silk stockings, either had to increase her allowance of money or cut the number of pairs by almost half. It is not likely that the increased price had much to do with sales, for price appears to be a secondary consideration with an increasing number of people and many novelties in silk hose indicate that there is a demand for them.

Conservative women in spite of the beauty of many of the novelty hose, stand staunchly by the plain black silk hose of good quality and consider it the last word in elegance, but the holidays brought out very tempting variations in hosiery. In silk there were pairs with fine lace or silk net set in at the front, the net embroidered with disks, and bows in gold or silver tinsel. Beads contributed to the brilliance of others, including beads of black jet put on in butterfly and sun-burst designs. Little round gold beads, made small, scattered rings on plain stockings and rhinestones instead of jet or gold formed rings around centers of jet on startlingly brilliant pairs. Small white flowers embroidered in silk on plain black stockings found a greater number of admirers than any others, except those that were all black.

In the light-colored hose silk embroidery in self color appears the favorite embellishment. On a light pink pair a heart is outlined in embroidery silk above the instep, and is set in the midst of many small dots embroidered about it. Fine feather stitching is used for this outlining. Stitchery made an effective decoration in drawn work on some pairs and suggested that stockings having "runs" might be put into commission for wearing by converting the run into a wide hem-stitching.

Drop-stitch hose in all colors and in white and black proves to be a great favorite. It is becoming to the feet and is shown in great quantities. Besides these luxurious stockings there are many warm woolen hose for sports wear. A favorite for holiday giving appeared knitted without a heel and having a thin leather half-sole at the toe, which was finished with a big yarn pompon. Just what particular sport they are made for is not evident, but for protecting the shoes when their wearer drives a car, they will prove perfect.

Good soft cotton or woolen hose remain a sensible choice for daily wear in winter time. They will help to keep down the high cost of living, which the increasing demand for expensive silk hose indicates is of the cost of high living.

DO NOT WASTE COOKING FUEL.

When a slow fire is needed all day to heat a kitchen, select foods that require long, slow cooking. Beans, peas, and roasts can be baked in the oven and cereals can be cooked in a double boiler on the top of the stove.

In broiling over a coal or wood fire put the broiler through the door over the fire box instead of taking off the lids and cooling the fire.

Use double broilers, steamers, and compartment vessels which fit over one burner on a gas or oil stove.

Eggs or small vegetables may be cooked in the bottom part of the boiler while cereals are cooked in the upper part, according to U. S. Department of Agriculture specialists.

A colander or wire basket fitted over a saucepan makes a good steamer. Vegetables such as carrots may be steamed in the colander while potatoes are boiled in the saucepan.

For slow cooking on a gas stove use a simmering burner. When soups and foods require long cooking, but keep well, cook them in large quantities.

Covered containers heat more quickly than uncovered.

Turn out the gas when it is not needed. Matches are cheaper than gas.

Turn-down the flame after the boiling point is reached. Water boiling fast is not hotter than water boiling slowly.

One firm advertises "friendly shoes." Nowadays one scarcely has a chance to get acquainted with one's shoes before they fade away.

THE GARDEN LADY'S STORIES

Beginning with this issue The Enterprise will publish a series of stories for children which will appear weekly. These stories were written in the interests of the School Garden Army movement. Each will be found wholesome, interesting, and worthwhile. Each story will be complete in three or four issues.

THE LADY IN THE DARK CLOAK.

By Ethel Allen Murphy.
Part I.

"Did I ever tell you about the Lady in the Dark Cloak?" asked the Garden Lady one summer day that had a hint of fall in its coolness.

"No—Garden Lady—tell—us—about her!" cried the children of the United States School Garden Army.

"I saw her," said the Garden Lady, "by the Compost Heap back of the rockery in the Golden Girl's Garden. My old friend, the Scarecrow, opened my eyes—my mind's eyes, I mean—to her. She was very strange, very beautiful, very wonderful, children," the Garden Lady went on in a queer, deep, quiet-sort-of voice that made pleasant little shivers run up and down their backs. The children looked at her with big eyes opened very wide, as if she had laid some sort of "Spell" upon them.

"I was standing by the rockery just at dusk one evening last summer. Late in August, it was, I believe. I was standing there watching the greeny-gold sky that turned to orange and rose color above, while a sort of blue-brown gauzy curtain of shadow settled down over the world, and I was wondering if I'd catch a sight of the Enchanted Princess when she came out of her castle in the rockery. A cool, queer wind blew up all at once out of nowhere, and I began to remember that seasons change and fall would soon be here. I felt sort of sorry. You know how you feel when you begin to count the days before the end of vacation. Yet I was a little bit excited, too, and sort of thrilling, you know, with a queer kind of happiness, as if something wonderful were going to happen, and as if I were just about to be made a sharer in some beautiful secret. I always feel that way when the seasons change, you know. Don't you?"

"Yes; I know," said Big Sister Peggy, softly.

"A yellow leaf drifted down from the old Apple-Tree, touched my hair lightly, and settled to the ground. I thought that I felt, rather than heard, a step, and that a trailing dress brushed against me.

"All of a sudden, a golden-mellow voice at my elbow made me jump. My friend, the Scarecrow, stood beside me. I glanced back toward the center of the Garden to see if his Image was still standing there.

"Ho, yes! Garden Lady! I'm there at my post," he said—that is, my Image is. My Real Self is here by you. Have you noticed the Lady in the Dark Cloak who walks in this Garden sometimes, walks so softly in her full, trailing cloak of darkness?"

"Tell me about her, Guardian Knight," I whispered. "It seems to me that I felt her pass just now, though I did not see her."

"I've seen her—dimly—Garden Lady, a good many times. I believe the first time was when my Moon Maiden first left me. I hardly saw her—that is, er—uh, well, she was a sort of shadow, you know, as if the soft evening darkness had made a dim shape for itself. And as she came, I heard no sound, except a little, faintest sort of stir among the Garden Children, as if they had all taken a deep breath and then sent it out in a faint, faint sigh. She seemed to come quite close to me, and I thought I looked into her eyes. They were deep—deep and dark—and they seemed to grow larger and deeper as I looked, and then to fill with strange lights, with beautiful blazing stars and suns moving through them. Then suddenly she stepped past me toward my pansy bed with a little rush of cool air, and I thought I heard a voice that seemed very close and yet far, far away, sort of chanting like, you know.

"Come, my little ones, my pretty ones. It is time for sleep—sl-e-e-p."

"Then she stood up, and all at once she grew so tall, so grand, that her head seemed to tower toward the sky; and, strange to say, I could see right through her. She was just a shadow, and all through the shadowy figure the stars were shining."

REVENUE COLLECTOR

AFTER THE BOOTLEGGERS

Prompted by reports from many sections of the country that scores of deaths had been caused by the drinking of denatured alcohol, Collector of Internal Revenue Justus S. Wardell said that he would use every means at his disposal to impose the ultimate penalties of the law upon so-called "bootleggers" and other persons responsible for any misuse of completely denatured alcohol in which blindness and death lurk when taken internally.

Collector Wardell pointed out that for months past the Bureau of Internal Revenue had zealously endeavored to make known to the public the grave dangers of either external or internal uses of completely denatured alcohol, it being shown that the use of it for bathing and rubbing purposes was highly injurious to the skin and animal tissue, and where used for beverage purposes blindness and death resulted.

The collector further said that in this district the daily and weekly press had repeatedly published these warnings at his request, and that all wholesale and retail druggists were notified that the skull and cross-bones symbol and the word "Poison" must be printed in red ink on all labels affixed to packages of completely denatured alcohol held for sale.

Apparently "cart shortage," like charity, covers a multitude of things.

What the world wants is immediate peace and stabilized industry. It will attend to the perfecting processes itself.

BUSINESS IS GOOD AND FAST GETTING BETTER

The fact that the country is rapidly getting back to a normal commercial status after the disruptions and uncertainties of the war period and that directly following the war is being reflected in renewed activities along industrial lines in this city. Large Eastern industries are showing great interest in the opportunities for manufacturing sites on the Pacific Coast. The representatives of several such industrial interests have been in South San Francisco the last week or two looking over sites for prospective new factories. One large concern, the Friesley Aircraft Corporation, has taken a site here, and two more companies have practically decided to locate in this city. The industrial situation is decidedly "looking up."

PSALMS OF LIFE

A CLASH OF THE CLASSES.

Thomas Black, sleek, well-fed, and lazy, evidently some old lady's darling and a member of one of our best families, lay curled up on a sunny roof at peace with the world and oblivious to the cares thereof. He had just eaten and he didn't care a hang who profited.

Enter Thomas Chaw. The newcomer was of a rugged type, the kind that does things—leads an army, constructs a railroad, builds a dam, or says one. He had a heavy brow, a broad chin, and a harsh voice. Irregular spots of color too numerous to mention were scattered over his person. Instinctively one felt that he had left home while quite young and had been making his way ever since. It was apparent he did not move in the best society.

Thomas Black watched the approach of Thomas Chaw with apathy and ennui. The other didn't belong in his circle and he didn't propose to recognize him.

Thomas Chaw swaggered up and made friendly overtures. Thomas Black blinked his disdain. You couldn't fool him. He guessed he knew who was who, and what was what! A member of one of the best families rubbing noses with a back alley whiskerado, indeed! Well, not if he knew it!

Thomas Chaw was piqued and showed it. He circled about Thomas Black sidewise, giving vent to rough, throaty sounds, and displaying enough brindle hair on his tail to stuff a mattress.

Thomas Black became nervous. Why should this great rough fellow force himself into the presence of one so far above him socially? Why, they hadn't even been introduced! But he felt uneasy at the wealth of expression in the other's voice. Well, he'd teach him to keep his distance! Thomas Black laid back his ears and spat, not a loud, vulgar hiss, but a mild, well-modulated one.

Then he suddenly seemed to remember that he was needed at home and started in that direction, not hurriedly, as though afraid, but with dignity as if to show disapproval of the other's rudeness. With a bound, Thomas Chaw was upon him in a flanking movement, and Thomas Black's errand home became suddenly urgent.

When last seen the two were rounding the corner with an utter disregard for the dangers of skidding. Thomas Black about one jump and two squawls ahead, and each cat carrying more tail than any well-regulated comet. Then adown the breeze was borne the sounds of mortal combat.

Another clash between the classes! R. S.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

INCOME TAX BLANKS WILL BE READY SOON

San Francisco, Jan. 7.—Classified forms for filing federal income tax returns for 1919 will be available not later than January 15th, it was announced at the office of Collector of Internal Revenue Justus S. Wardell today. Chief Deputy John L. Flynn stated that forms will be mailed to all corporations and individuals in the district who filed returns last year. Others may secure the necessary forms at the office of the collector in the custom house or from district deputies. The period for filing returns expires March 15, 1920.

To avoid penalty, every person whose income for the last year equaled or exceeded $1000 or $2000, according to their marital status as the head of a family, must file a return. The law makes no exceptions, the penalty for failure being a fine of not more than $1000. The normal tax for 1919 is 4 and 8 per cent, against 6 and 12 per cent for 1918.

Collector Wardell said that for the benefit of income taxpayers a free advisory service by trained deputy collectors, agents and inspectors would be established in every county in the district, and that official advice and help would be rendered taxpayers with respect to filing their returns.

"In this connection," said Collector Wardell, "I desire to warn the public against the wiles of numerous so-called 'income tax experts,' who this year are early in the field offering to use their magic wands of income tax wisdom to relieve the busy taxpayer from all worries about his tax liability. Taxpayers should discriminate carefully between really helpful, authoritative advice in tax matters, and

SAN FRANCISCO WANTS ITS INDUSTRIAL ZONE EXTENDED

Because of industrial expansion, the metropolitan area of the San Francisco-Oakland district should be extended south to Los Gatos, north to Petaluma and Napa, and east to Suisun bay and Antioch, according to the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce. It is urging the Census Bureau to create a district with such boundaries, in place of the one apportioned under the 1914 census, which extended north to Nicasio in Marin county and south to Burlingame, and on the Oakland side north to San Pablo bay and south to Decoto.

Charles Day of the Chamber of Commerce explains that what is designated by the United States Census Bureau as the "metropolitan area" is the district containing the factories—the industrial district, embracing either one or more cities of the surrounding territory, in which are grouped all industrial establishments. "It includes," he said, "all of the manufacturing districts directly tributary to San Francisco and Oakland. We want the area increased so as to give to San Francisco more importance. The idea is to take in factories that have their head offices in San Francisco and their plants at adjacent points around the bay."

BODY DISCOVERED SUNDAY BURIED UNIDENTIFIED

The body of a man apparently about 60 years of age was discovered in "Happy Valley," back of the Chinese cemetery, last Sunday by the 15-year-old son of George Lagomarsino. Constable S. A. Landini was notified and had the body taken to the Lasswell undertaking establishment at Daly City, where it was held awaiting identification. Nobody appeared who knew the dead man and he was buried Tuesday. Nothing was found in his pockets or on his person that would help to identify him. The coroner's jury, which held an inquest Monday, returned a verdict of death from unknown causes.

The dead man had a gray beard, wore a blue flannel shirt, a dark suit, and a derby hat. There were no marks on his person to indicate how he came to his death.

NEW RECTOR COMES TO GRACE CHURCH

Mr. Molony returned recently from service overseas with the Canadian army, being a private in the Twenty-ninth Vancouver Infantry. He saw two years of service with the Canadians, about two months of which was at the front. He says he was attracted to South San Francisco because of the industrial atmosphere here, he having formerly lived at Lorain, Ohio, where large steel mills are located. Mr. Molony comes to this city from Watsonville.

Dorset, pleaded guilty to a charge of having undersized abalones in their possession and were fined $25, the third man, V. Vannucci was arrested November 23d, and at his first appearance in court at that time declared he had killed sparrows only. # BOYS ARRESTED FOR THEFT ARE GIVEN LIBERTY AGAIN

Henry Tucker and Roy Blake, two youths arrested in San Mateo Monday on suspicion of having stolen an automatic shotgun from Arthur I. English of Lomita Park, were brought into Judge Smith's court in this city Wednesday, but were released as nobody would sign a complaint against them. The shotgun was recovered from under a pile of lumber in San Mateo, and Mr. English refused to swear to the complaint against the two boys.

They claimed in court to have been coming north on a freight train and to have been put off near San Mateo. Judge Smith told the boys to go their way and get to work somewhere.
